

Professional Construction Estimators Association of America, Inc.

National Information

The Professional Construction Estimators Association (PCEA) was originally chartered on June 5, 1956 with twenty-five members in Charlotte, North Carolina. During the early years of existence, these few members rallied together exchanging constructive ideas, promoting educational endeavors, and developing new friendships. They set forth goals and aimed toward expansion of the association through diversified activities and development of established relationships. As a result, the second Chapter was established in Greensboro, North Carolina in 1958.

The purpose and objective of the organization is to further the recognition of construction estimating as a professional field within the construction industry. To collect and disseminate information that will increase the efficiency of all phases of construction, promote good will between the various phases of construction, and obtain a more thorough understanding of the various problems confronting the construction industry.

Today, the National association has more than nine hundred members in twelve chapters across five states (VA, NC, SC, GA, and FL) and continues to grow.

The purpose of the PCEA as extracted from the by-laws and constitution include:

- * To further recognition of construction estimating as a professional field of endeavor.
- * To collect and disseminate information that will increase the efficiency of all phases of construction, promote good will between the various phases of construction industry, obtain a more thorough understanding of the various problems confronting the construction industry, and make all possible efforts to solve those problems satisfactorily to all concerned.
- * To observe moral and ethical standards that would at all times reflect favorable upon members as individuals as part of the association.
- * To furnish to its members means and opportunities for social intercourse, mental improvement, amusement, and recreation.
